

South Bank Hunt now on sale

Culture, cons and controversy in London's artistic heartland

We're delighted to announce the launch of our third hunt, set on London's South Bank. This exciting new trail is our most intricate and ambitious hunt to date, with fiendishly challenging clues taking you through one of London's most vibrant areas.

The hunt is packed with little-known facts and anecdotes to help bring this area and its bizarre, fascinating history to life. Find out about Britain's most notorious prison, the mysterious case of God's Banker and why mudlarking may be the worst job in history.

South Bank hunt is available now on www.london-hunts.com priced at £10 per hunt for any number of people. Further information can be found on our website or by contacting us on contact@london-hunts.com

Notes for Editors

London Treasure Hunts is a new and exciting internet-based company aims to encourage tourists and residents alike to discover London. We create self-guided treasure hunts, suitable for all ages, which will help everyone get the most out of their time in the capital, whether fresh off the plane or a seasoned Londoner.